Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-11,14-17,21-24 and 26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hoogetboom (5,928,263).

Hoogetboom discloses a device 10 for insertion into a body lumen having the limitations as recited in the listed claims, including: an elongate member 12 has proximal and distal end, at least one clamping arm 18 includes a first end (the first end locates to the right side of element 18b) having a pivotal connection with the distal end of the elongate member, where the clamping arm extends away from the pivotal connection, where control means 20 for controlling the pivotal movement of the clamping arm, where the control means connects with the at least one clamping arm, and where the clamping arm has a second end (the second end locates from the tip of element 18b) which is opposite the first end, where the clamping arm when in the open position forms a receptacle (the receptacle is the space between 18a and 18b), where the receptacle for receiving an object, for-example, a stent, a foreign object or a tissue sample. Regarding the intended use "a receptacle for receiving an object" The statement of intended use and other functional statements have been carefully considered but are deemed not to impose any structure limitations on the claims distinguishable over Hoogetboom reference which is capable of being used as claimed if one desires to do so. Where the clamping arm includes a plurality of teeth (the teeth occurs along segment 126, 128) to grip the object, where the device further has a spring 148, where the control means 20 comprises a control mechanism and connecting means which is a cable 30 for connecting the control mechanism with the clamping arm, and where the device further has a releasable locking means at 156 for locking the at least the control arm, and where the clamping arm when in the open condition has an acute angle relative to the longitudinal axis of the elongate member at best seen in fig. 2.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 12-13,18-20 and 25 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

As allowable subject matter has been indicated, applicant's reply must either comply with all formal requirements or specifically traverse each requirement not complied with. See 37 CFR 1.111(b) and MPEP § 707.07(a).

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed 6/3/2008 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. In response to applicant's argument that Hoogetboom does not teach an apparatus having a clamping arm that extends away from a pivotal connection towards the proximal end of an elongate member (an intended use limitation): It is noted that Hoogetboom discloses a device 10 for insertion into a body lumen including: an elongate member 12 has proximal and distal end, at least one clamping arm 18 includes a first end (the first end locates to the right side of element 18b) having a pivotal connection with the distal end of the elongate member, where the clamping arm extends away from the pivotal connection. Thus, a reference needs not show the structure of the recitation in order to meet the claim language but rather the reference needs only be capable of being used with such structure. (See MPEP 2106 and MPEP 2111.04). Accordingly, the above note reference is still considered to read on the claimed limitations of the claims noted.

Conclusion

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
